

Global Citizenship (GLBL)

GLBL 101 Global Citizenship and Study Abroad (1)

The course prepares students for study abroad experiences by introducing them to concepts of global citizenship, techniques for field investigation (borrowed mostly from anthropology), and, to a lesser degree, social processes of integration into a new host culture.

Prerequisite: Only open to students approved to Study Abroad.

GLBL 102 Global Citizenship and Reflecting on Study Abroad (1)

Students reflect on their study abroad experiences and what it means to be a global citizen. The course helps students to integrate their study abroad experience with their academic and co-curricular work at Sewanee. Students will discuss reverse cultural shock and readjustment to social life in the U.S.

GLBL 150 Academic Writing Circles (1)

Intended for English language learners, this course offers supplemental instruction for students who are also enrolled in a GFWI course during the same semester. Students will use writing assignments from their other courses during the semester to develop a unique plan for improving their writing. With the instructor, they will workshop their written work with their peers, focus on targeted writing skills, gain practice in presenting and discussing their ideas, and be asked to reflect carefully on their experience with the writing process.

Prerequisite: concurrent enrollment in a foundational writing intensive course and placement.

GLBL 442 Internship (2 to 8)

Students engage in an approved internship on an authorized study abroad or study away program. Students are expected to complete 45-67.5 hours of internship work per credit hour. Interning students will complete bi-weekly reflective exercises and an academic paper at the end of the internship.
